

Here's What's Happening

- Oct. 2 - Infusions Restaurant and Bake Shop opens
- Oct. 2 - 8th grade school tours - all campuses
- Oct. 4 - 10th grade tours - Mount Joy campus
- Oct. 6 – Barktoberfest Fundraiser – Willow Street campus
- Oct. 7 - WIOV Fallfest - CTC is a sponsor
- Oct. 10 – Practical Nursing Open House

Welcome to the Team

Our 10 new teachers are, left to right back row: Jamie Redcay, Interactive Media and Web Design; David Wise, Plumbing; Kyle Pope, Diesel Technology; Todd Staub, Introduction to Construction Careers, and Doug Stevens, Introduction to Manufacturing Careers. Front row: Scott Kriner, Photography; Shane Pfeiffer, Cabinetmaking & Wood Technology; Rich White, Collision; Rachel Sprecher, Dental Assistant, and Daniel Harsh, Introduction to Manufacturing Careers.

Inside this issue

Forbes Recognition	3
Skills USA	3
Meet Dr. Stuart Savin	4
9/11 Service.....	5
Open for Business.....	6
Vet Tech Graduates	7

We also welcomed

Kelly Summers to the team as food service specialist and Marian Mercado as the administrative assistant for the Driver License Testing Center located in Brownstown.

Welcome to the Team

Welcome to support staff on the Willow Street campus, left to right: Tina Kirsten, Medical Assistant aide; Jamie Armer, front desk receptionist; Nichole Kilby, Dental Assistant aide and Mary Lou Ault, Auto Tech/ Auto Mechanics aide.

Scholarship Winners Announced

Four Practical Nursing students were recently presented with Maryanne Leaby Memorial Scholarships.

Click here to read the story.

We recently welcomed Business Manager Barb Seddon and Director of Higher and Continuing Education Amber Kreger to the team.

Left to right, Scott Summy, representing the LCCT Foundation Board; scholarship winners Jaydalis Cruz; Mohseneh Afzali; Amity Lloyd; Amber Gelvar, and Gary Leaby, founder of the scholarship

Lancaster County Magazine featured our awesome Culinary Arts, Baking & Pastry Arts and Infusions Restaurant, located on the Mount Joy campus, in the August issue! Click here to read the story.

LCCTC Named 5th Out of Top 30 Trade Schools

For the second year, Forbes Magazine published a list of top 30 technical and career colleges, and for the second time, LCCTC was named to the list.

This year the school was ranked fifth in the nation!

To make their determinations, Forbes used data from the federal government's Integrated Post-Secondary Education Data System,

IPEDS, College Scorecard databases, and salary database PayScale, then they divided the methodology into four parts: post-graduate success, affordability, completion success, and student experience.

Click here to read the story.

Barktoberfest Held on Willow Street Campus

On Saturday, Oct. 6, from 10 am-2 pm the Veterinary Assistant program will hold its annual Barktoberfest fundraiser. This event features vendors, demonstrations, a bake sale, animal rescue groups and more. Don't forget to pre-order your chicken bbq! Click here to read the story! Solanco students Haley, left, and Sarah, are ready to sell dog wash vouchers.

Intro to Culinary Students Start Strong

Introduction to Culinary Careers student Junior Julia Bare, Solanco, created this beautiful rose out of a tomato peel to demonstrate her knife skills. Willow Street campus students are practicing these garnishes as well as how to make salsa.

Here's What Happened Over the Summer

We sent 9 students to SkillsUSA, and brought home 3 medals - 2 gold and 1 silver.

Click to read the story.

Mount Joy Garden Featured in LNP

Thanks to a $16,000 grant awarded by the Lancaster County Career & Technology Foundation, a Discovery Garden has been constructed on Lancaster County Career & Technology Center's Mount Joy campus.

Click to read the story.

Welcome

Dr. Stuart Savin

On July 1, Dr. Stuart Savin was officially appointed administrative director of Lancaster County CTC. Click here for details about Dr. Savin, and enjoy the interesting facts below:

Where did you grow up?

Connecticut

First job? Mucking out bus bathrooms

Pets: 2 cats, Rosie & Ty

Favorite hobbies: Sailing, rebuilding motorcycles, cars and boats and traveling

Favorite sports team?

It's a secret

Favorite TV show/ movie?

Star Trek

Favorite type of music:

All but opera

Favorite vacation spot?

Somewhere on a boat sailing

Favorite restaurant?

Iron Hill

Who or what inspires you and why? Opportunity and success through education

Student Recognized with a Shout-Out Shirt

Willow Street Junior Josiah Inman, Lampeter-Strasburg, recently received a 180-Day Shout Out shirt for rescuing one of our dogs who got loose out of the fenced in area. He returned the dog safely and for that, we are grateful!

Work Underway on Second House

Our Residential Carpentry students have been busy! The foundation has been dug, and the walls are being put in place.

Caring for the Community

Our Baking & Pastry students on the Mount Joy campus shared their time and talents making sheet cakes for the annual United Way Day of Caring. We love to support our community!

Students Participate in Remembrance Ceremony

Students from the Protective Services Academy along with the Lancaster County Public Safety Training Center, had the privilege to participate in the annual Lancaster County 9/11 Remembrance Service.

This event recognizes emergency responders who have died in the line of duty in Lancaster County and acknowledges the events of September 11, 2001. Click to read the story.

Partnership Makes for Safer & Improved Learning Space

Students in the Electrical Technology program at

Brownstown have a safer and improved learning space thanks to a partnership with Eaton, the maker of the electrical panels seen in the photo. For every two purchased, Eaton donated a full panel, and all the breakers and plugs. Thanks to the donation, every student in this year's class has his/her own panel on which to work. Pictured left to right: Emily, Warwick and Bryson, Manheim Central.

Kind Words About High Tea

We love it when members of the community share positive comments!

"Just want to say I can't wait for your high tea to start. I have been dropping by for years and Chef Zhookoff never ever ceases to amaze!! Her menu is refreshingly changed each week and the themes are wonderful.

The food presentation is beautiful to look at and even better tasting. Tell her to keep up the great work!" - Bryan

Infusions Opens for Business October 2

Culinary Arts and Baking & Pastry Arts programs are pleased to announce that Infusions Restaurant will be open for business beginning October 2! High Tea is served on Tuesdays; lunch is served Thursdays and Fridays.

The Deli and Bake Shoppe are also open for sales on those days. Please encourage your friends, neighbors and family to make a reservation and support our students! Click for details.

School-wide Assemblies Kick Off Skills USA and Reinforce Student Expectations

Students on all of our campuses attended school-wide assemblies to reinforce student expectations and to introduce students to opportunities available within Skills USA. Pictured are students on the Willow Street campus.

Visual Students Recognized by Two Sides

Kudos to last year's Intro to Visual Communication's students for being recognized by Two Sides, an organization that promotes the sustainability of the Graphics Communications Industry. Pictured: All five of these junior are now seniors attending LCCTC. Leana and Victoria, Ephrata; Alexis and Kaleigh, Cocalico and Summer, Garden Spot.

Let's Get Social!

LCCTC is active on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram! Be sure to follow us, like us, and share our posts!

Donation Benefits Adult Education Welding Program

Students in the Advanced Welding class are making racks to put in the Pole Barn Storage Area which is being constructed on the Mount Joy campus.

We are appreciative of GSM Industrial and their donation of the beams. This hands-on learning experience gave students the opportunity to put their training to work.

For more information about our adult education welding programs, click here.

Yea Grads!

The Veterinary Technology adult education program graduated its first class. Click to read the story.

LCCTC Hosted 3-Day Training Program

LCCTC hosted a three-day electrical training program on its Mount Joy campus for mill employees.

Instruction was provided by LCCTC's Charlie Heisig and Dave Malone, adult education mechatronics instructors, and Eli Martin, high school electro-mechanical engineering instructor. Click to read the story.

Safety a Priority

Safety first is a priority at LCCTC.

Advanced Health students at Brownstown are learning about the importance of personal protective equipment.

