At Willow Street, Diesel Equipment Technology was flying through NOCTI prep stations! Students made wheel bearing adjustments, valve adjustments, checked brake stroke on a trainer, and measured cylinder liner protrusion with micrometers. Welding students even stopped by to create and secure the stands for wheel bearing adjustments!

Collision Repair sanded red paint off toolbox drawers, which will later be repainted. Students also readjusted the door alignment on an instructor's truck and straightened the metal on a wheel well to prep for a fender flare!
